

Check management reports and put them on the agenda for each week, peoples metrics must be discussed.

People should be getting involved in the smaller tasks on github.

People sticking to pairings for coding, lets try not to assign people to a different partner every time.